Williams Honored for Service

On December 7th, Communities Investing in Families (CIF) staff and board members took time to thank Richard "Dick" Williams for ten years of service on the organization's Board of Trustees. Dick has been an integral part of the organization since it began as a task force addressing welfare changes in the mid-1990's. When CIF incorporated as a non-profit in 2002, Dick was elected Board Chair, a position he held until July 2007. He is now shifting to a committee advisory position within the organization.

When asked about his experience with Communities Investing in Families, Dick said, " I feel really good about what we do both personally and professionally. We serve people in need, and there's no doubt about the need. I am very excited about the direction of CIF nowadays. With new board members coming on, I know CIF will continue to provide quality services for the region. I'm just changing my role from governing member to an advisory position. This will allow the natural development of the Board of Trustees to continue." During the event, many stories were shared, good memories relived, and of course, much cake was eaten. Thank you, Dick, for all you do.
